Exploring the Role of Private Law in the Making of Society and the Processes of Private
Law-Making in a Diverse World | Newsletter | Issue 13 | December 2024

Dear colleagues,

We are happy to share with you a new ACT newsletter, full of interesting events, publications, media appearances and stories! We hope that our newsletter will ease you into the restful holiday break, after yet another eventful year.

Warm wishes,
Marija Bartl

New PhD Researchers Join the ACT

Lenin Chisaira is a new PhD researcher focusing on the intersection of law, climate finance and socio-ecological transformation. With a background in environmental law advocacy, his research explores how legal frameworks impact sustainable financial inclusion and solidarity-economic practices in the Anthropocene.

Yevai Gerber is a new PhD researcher focusing on private law's role in fostering sustainable food systems inspired by African philosophy like Ubuntu. She draws on her background in international business law and animal law research to explore innovative legal frameworks.

Reimagining Prosperity: Toward a New Imaginary of Law and Political Economy in the EU (Open Access)

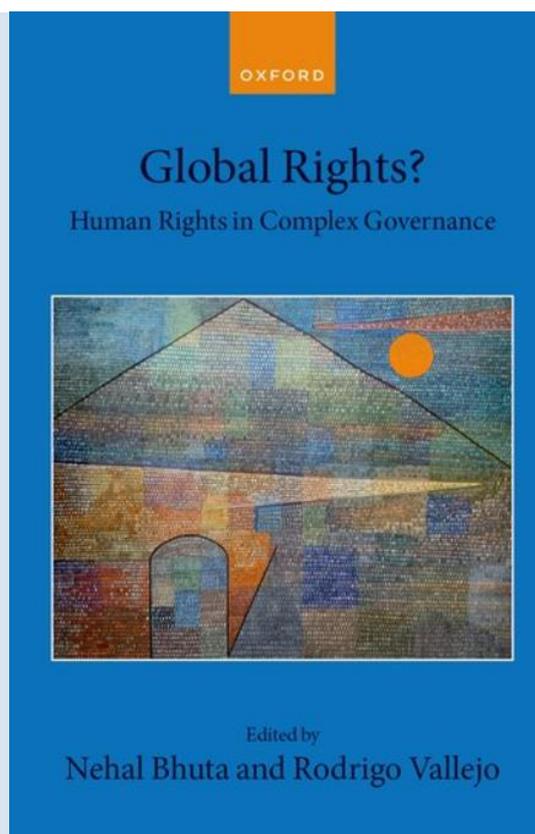

In November 2024, Marija Bartl published her latest book, Reimagining Prosperity: Toward a New Imaginary of Law and Political Economy in the EU. In this work, Bartl explores how the European Union can reshape its legal and economic frameworks to foster a more inclusive and sustainable vision of prosperity.

Global Rights?: Human Rights in Complex Governance

ACT member Rodrigo Vallejo and Nehal Bhuta published a new book titled, Global Rights? Human Rights in Complex Governance.

The book interrogates how human rights and global governance interact with various sub-fields of international and transnational regulation to answer these foundational questions. Find out more here.

Het nieuwe Belgische verbintenissenrecht vanuit Nederlands perspectief

On October 3rd, 2024, Sébastien De Rey published Het nieuwe Belgische verbintenissenrecht vanuit Nederlands perspectief.

This book provides a comparative analysis of the new Belgian law of obligations through the lens of Dutch legal principles, offering valuable insights for legal scholars and practitioners.

Visiting Researchers

Since the start of the academic year, we had the pleasure of welcoming a handful of new visiting researchers. Find out what research they are currently undertaking:

- Esen Egemen
- Jason Santos
- Leonardo Eiji Kawamoto
- Pietro Mattioli

REC A3.01

HYBRID

The 2024–2025 ACT Lecture Series explores the role of private law amidst technological, social, ecological, and geopolitical shifts. It examines how private law norms, doctrines, and institutions shape and respond to conflicts over different values. Key questions include the tenability of monistic values in pluralistic societies and the influence of private law on moral–political values various institutions. Ultimately, it asks: Why private law?

ELS Summer Academy

In late August, ACT researchers joined the Summer Academy of the European Law School network, an alliance of eight capital city law schools. The week-long event, themed 'Law's Nature—What Ecological Future for European Law and Beyond?', brought together 40 students for lectures, workshops, and excursions. Marija Bartl, Candida Leone, Kinanya Pijl, and Klaas Eller (co-organizer) presented their work on private law in the Green Transition.

What Ecological Futures for European Law
and beyond?

Whitepaper Launch

The Sustainable by Design project, consisting of two ACT members, Marija Bartl and Nena van der Horst, as well as Rutger Claassen (Utrecht University) advocates for a new industrial policy in the EU to support sustainable and competitive economic practices. On September 5, the online launch of the whitepaper, Sustainable by Design: Industrial Policy for Long-Term Competitiveness in the EU, took place. ## Featured Researcher

Marija Bartl

Rethinking Prosperity: Marija Bartl on Shared Wealth, Dignity, and Democracy.

In an interview, Professor Marija Bartl discusses the urgency of moving toward shared prosperity and the transformative power of private law to address inequality and strengthen democratic values.

New European Research Council Report: Transformative Change for a Sustainable Future

A new ERC Scientific Council report highlights over 300 ERC-funded projects, including Marija Bartl's N-EXTLAW project (page 36), including team members Nena van der Horst and Finn Sanders, which explores legal frameworks for sustainable, non-extractive economic models.

Fundamentele rechten en het Nederlands privaatrecht: een dialoog

The publication written in Dutch by Chantal Mak explores the intersection of private law and societal challenges in the Netherlands, emphasizing how legal frameworks can adapt to evolving issues such as sustainability and digitalization. It proposes a dialogue-oriented approach to ensure private law remains effective and equitable. Read it here.

A 'Digital Turn' for Sustainability Due Diligence? Digital Tools and the CSDDD

Klaas Eller wrote an opinion piece in the Business & Human Rights Resource Centre titled A 'digital turn' for sustainability due diligence?, exploring how the EU's Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive (CSDDD) will reshape corporate practices. While digital tools like AI and big data are key to mapping supply chains and assessing risks, Eller cautions against compromising human-centered sustainability goals for technological efficiency.

Towards Rights-Compatible Use of Digital Technologies in Stakeholder Engagement

Klaas Eller contributed to a UN OHCHR consultation on digital technologies in corporate human rights efforts, presenting findings from the interdisciplinary project ‘DigiChain’ on October 13-14. This project, a collaboration with the Asser Institute and partly funded by a UvA Seed Grant, examines digital tools' roles in Green Deal regulations.

TPL Blog Symposium: Social Justice, Private Law and Europe(?) 2024-2044: Keeping the Hope Alive

This past October, the TPL blog hosted a series inspired by the workshop “Social Justice, Private Law, and Europe\(?\) 2024-2044: Keeping the Hope Alive”. The blogs explored themes like addressing systemic injustices through private law, the impact of digitalization on equity, and reimagining private law for social justice.
